IDL Wins the Queen's Award for Enterprise: International Trade 2009

Integrated Design Ltd has been awarded the prestigious Queen's Award for Enterprise: International Trade 2009.

The Queen's Awards for Enterprise are the UK's most prestigious Awards for business performance. They recognise and reward outstanding achievement by UK companies. The Awards are made each year by The Queen, on the advice of the Prime Minister, who is assisted by an Advisory Committee that includes representatives of Government, industry and commerce, and the trade unions.

Integrated Design was awarded the International Trade category for demonstrating a substantial growth in export trade over a 3 year period, by expanding their network of overseas distributors and partners all over the world, to Korea, Russia, Australia and New Zealand, and building upon their existing dealer bases in North America, Japan, Middle East and Europe. As such between April 2006 and April 2008 IDL has increased overseas revenue by almost 170%.

After a lavish evening reception at Buckingham Palace the coveted award will be presented to IDL by the Lord Lieutenant of the county later this year.

"Winning the Queen's Award for International Trade is a great honour that we gladly share with our hard working partners in North America, Japan, Middle East and Europe. The award recognises the team effort from our staff and suppliers that has earned Fastlane Entrance Control a place on an international stage." Said Derek Huff, Managing Director at IDL.
